The object was to show that a speculative belief had influenced him in business matters.

Sitting Bull Wants to Come Home.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—A dispatch was received yesterday by Gen. Sheridan from Col. Miles, dated Fort Keogh, Mont., saying that six Sioux Indians had arrived at that post direct from the British possessions, being emissaries sent over the line by Sitting Bull to ascertain upon what terms his people would be permitted to surrender to the U. S. authorities. They represented to Col. Miles that the Sioux Indians who had taken refuge in Canada were heartily desirous of returning to the American side.

Gen. Sheridan's Reply.

In reply to Col. Miles' telegram from Fort Keogh about Sitting Bull's return to the United States, Gen. Sheridan has telegraphed him that we are not especially anxious about Indians who want north coming back, but if they do come it must be on the terms of unconditional surrender.

Honors to the Memory of a Good Man.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—A cable dispatch says that a statue in honor of the late Father Deluns, the Jesuit missionary to the North American Indians, was unveiled yesterday in his native place, Dendermonde, Belgium. Andrews was nominated for governor by acclamation. Henry C. Robinson declining the nomination, David Gallette was nominated for lieutenant governor and David Trickett for secretary of state.

The Platform.

The following platform was unanimously adopted:

That the existing danger to the public credit, industry and commerce, call upon us to pledge our time and influence to the great principles of patriotism and statesmanship which have successfully carried us recently throughout the perils of a great war, preserved and established the union. That the United States and legal tenders issued by the necessities of war are sacred debts to be paid in the last dollar in standard money of the world, and that the only money recognized in the constitution or in the exchange of the world is gold and silver coin of weight and fineness which is the universal currency, and we demand that every paper shall be redeemable in coin at the will of the holder, and that coin currency shall be kept at par with the gold standard of the world.

That the issue of legal tender notes was only justified by the necessities of war, and that any departure from the standard of money, or to increase the volume of irredeemable paper currency, is to make the money of the people unstable, unsafe and unjust; to simply repudiation; and the issue of legal tender, passed in time of profound peace, would be without excuse and a gross violation of the constitution of the United States; and therefore we demand actual resumption of specie payments at the time fixed by law, and that congress shall do no act to delay it, but shall leave the country free in its reviving prosperity.

That we believe in the integrity and patriotism of President Hayes, and will give him our cordial support in all his constitutional efforts to secure an honest and efficient service and to maintain the financial honesty of the nation; that the title of the president having been settled by a commission of both political parties acting in the best interests of the country, we charge that the attacks of the Democratic party upon him, and the attempt to reopen the question of his title, are seditious and dangerous to public peace and prosperity, and have for their object, not the welfare of the whole country, but the advancement of a faction.

A Big Claim against the Peruvian Government.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The World's Washington special says: It is said that Theophile Landreau of France and John C. Landreau of New Orleans, will file a claim with congress at its next session to collect a vast sum of money from the Peruvian government. Nearly half a century ago the government of Peru made a law offering to any person who should make new discoveries to add to the wealth of that country one third of such discoveries. Theophile Landreau a scientist and explorer, discovered deposits of guano in Peru from which the government derived millions of dollars revenue. Landreau's claim of the discovery was recognized in 1845, but the government was unable to pay one third interest in the discoveries and a compromise was agreed upon. Just as the claim was about to be settled the Pardo revolution broke out and the national treasury was exhausted in trying to suppress it. Since then the chronic revolutions of the country have prevented the discoverer from settling his claim. John C. Landreau of New Orleans is a brother of Theophile and advanced him money to prosecute his discovery, receiving in return therefor a half interest in the prospective rewards. As Landreau of New Orleans is a naturalized citizen of the United States, he claims the assistance of this government to aid him in the collection of his money. The full amount of Landreau's claim is said to be over $100,000,000, but claimants are willing to make a compromise with Peru for a portion of that sum.

An Opportunity to Explain.

Dissatisfied stockholders of the Defrees mine will hold a meeting on Thursday evening and endeavor to put in a new board of directors. The principal complaint against the present board is that it is alleged that Grand Prize is working on Defrees ground and that no effort is being made to prevent it by the directors, President Grayson being heavily interested in the Grand Prize, and consequently held to be indifferent in the matter. It is also held that a bonanza exists on and below the 400 foot level, but that the management avoids developing it for reasons best known to themselves.

The Delinquent Dead.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The finance committee of the board of supervisors this afternoon continued the investigation of the late Alex. Austin. City Treasurer Hibert testified that on October 9, 1875, Austin drew $80,000 from the Bank of California, but made no payment to him at that or about that time, but that during October and November he paid in various amounts $15,788 73. September 5, 1876, Austin paid in $31,301 03, which was his last payment. Jennings S. Cox, one of Austin's business partners, said that deceased had lost $46,934 58 by carrying stocks for customers. Promine at among these bad customers were found the names of City and County Attorney Burnett, for $12,905 20; District Attorney D. Murphy, $1,672 38; Auditor Maynard, $2,558 27; Mrs. Austin, $15,964 53, and a number of others of both sexes. In addition to these amounts Austin had lost in operations on his own account some $70,000. W. E. Dean, custodian of deceased's papers, testified that he had found among them good notes and due bills to the amount of $50,000, and outlawed notes aggregating $19,840 14. There were also another batch of notes, the names of the makers being with held, which Dean summed up as follows: Good, $2,670; doubtful, $53,786 58; worthless, $14,773 21. A together the examination showed that Austin had lost about $215,000.

Murphy and Burnett Vindicate Themselves.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—Before the finance committee of the board of supervisors this afternoon District Attorney Murphy and City and County Attorney Burnett made a full statement as to their connection with due bills left by the late Alexander Austin, by which it appears that Murphy had been indebted to Austin in the ordinary course of stock transactions, while Burnett had on several occasions borrowed from Aus in when caught in a tight place with marginal stock. Burnett also made some statements to show that he had exercised due diligence in collecting protested tax moneys. There was nothing elicited to show that any penal ary relations had subsisted between witnesses and deceased other than in accordance with ordinary business and friendly accommodations. The committee adjourned subject to call of the chairman.

The common schools should be maintained. No centralization of power; the maintenance of state rights. The unconditional restoration of silver. The substitution of United States currency for National bank notes. Condemning all unjust discriminations in freights and fares. The Chinese being an evil, must go. Taxation in favor of honest and economical administration of the affairs of city, county and state governments; reduction if large deed, so as to prevent any accumulation of moneys in the treasury beyond what is necessary to pay interest on state debt. The ballot to be held inviolable and sacred; approving the miners' and mechanics' union so as to secure protection to white working men against Chinese competition; opposition to railroad and bank corporations and all other monopolies upheld by the Republican party, as the support which the said party has given them has stolen bread and butter from millions of honest workingmen; that stockholders should visit mining properties in which they are interested; that the inauguration of Hayes was a fraud against all principles of free government, and his policy is condemned. Gov. Bradley's administration is approved, particularly his having opposed the taxation of the proceeds of the mines.

THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 26, 1878.

A PRESS LAW.

It is universally admitted that there is need of a law for the better protection of society and of individuals against infamous and irresponsible journalism. A law to fix responsibility and to afford means of redress to those who may be wronged by this species of outrage, would fall with its penalties only upon disreputable publications. All others should welcome such a law, both for the purpose of discountenancing infamous newspapers and giving dignity to the legitimate press, and also for the preservation of private rights and the peace of society. The main trouble arises from the fact that licentious journalism usually has no financial responsibility. There is no ownership or property in it; some utterly base fellow, who is usually backed by an unscrupulous political or other ring, obtains control of a little cheap printing materia, which is commonly owned by or mortgaged to somebody else; and with it he plies his scandalous trade of blackmail, obscenity, and personal defamation. The present laws offer no available check to the career of these literary lepers and moral monstrosities. They eject upon the community their steady stream of deadly poison without fear or care of consequences; assail private character in the hope of extorting money, and are often successful; discover a malicious and devilish ingenuity in tracking up faults, foibles, slips or mistakes in private conduct, and offering them to the public garnished with lies, or holding them over the individual as a means of compelling him to respond to the demands of an infamous avarice through which this unclean journalism is supported; and, after giving the most deadly of all provocations that baseness can invent or depravity conceive, can then pretend to stand merely on the defense, and lay to the charge of the injured person any breach of the peace or sadder consequences that may ensue. The very sources of moral instruction are poisoned; society is attacked within its most sacred and inviolable retreats; private reputations are made a subject of traffic for the gain of the basest of all wretches, and murder itself is incited with a calculating villainy that curdles the blood of those who witness its consummation. We believe no great an abuse need not go without a remedy. A law compelling every person who publishes a journal to give a heavy bond against an abuse of the privileges of the press would bear excellent fruit. No one now sues these vicious sheets for defamation, because their publishers are as bankrupt in purse as they are in character, and mock at those who talk of actions for damages But let them, (and all others) before they are permitted to issue a journal of any kind, be required to furnish a sufficient bond; and then let the sureties be held to liability for articles of a libelious, filthy, defamatory or calumnious nature appearing in the publication thus endorsed. Such a law would convert the irresponsible into a responsible press, or better still abolish it altogether. All legitimate journals are a property in themselves, and thus are held to liability even without such a law; but they can easily afford to give the bond for the sake of enforcing liability upon the class of disreputable publications. Let the sureties for slander mongers be forced even in a single instance to respond in damages, and we shall see more done for the cause of public morality through abatement of this nuisance of a licentious press than is likely to be accomplished for years to come through moral influences alone. One way of reaching this evil is through the pocket. It is a duty to strike at it through all avenues of approach, and with all weapons.

Proper share of the legal responsibility may not fall on W. S. Chapman, but his moral responsibility is at least equal to that of Mercer, who is held to answer on a charge of murder. Chapman should be at once dismissed from the service of the city. A man of his character ought never to be allowed to serve the public in any capacity, and the vile sheet which he controls should never again be admitted within the doors of honorable men. To write as we have written is an act we would gladly have avoided; but it is a duty to the memory of an honest man who has been defamed and murdered, and an obligation to society, which should be put upon its guard against those whose trade it is to defame its members, poison its morals and disturb its peace.

In Speaker Randall's district in Philadelphia the "Nationals" have nominated a candidate for congress who has received the endorsement of the Republicans. It is believed that Randall will be beaten by this combination. Here is another incident which shows how Republicans as well as Democrats are playing with this dangerous "fiat money" movement. In almost every locality the minority party is giving encouragement and support to this insanity. Men do not appreciate how grave the danger is, else they would not thus palter with it.

Senator Blaine, in his recent address at the fair at Ogdensburg, N. Y., dwelt on honest money as the one great issue for the industrial classes to consider, and declared that if the financial question were not settled aright, and a political currency were voted up and down by congress, it would be as dire in effect as the pestilence now devastating the south. The language was none too strong.

Mr. Hewitt says of the Oregon dispatches on the electoral question, recently printed and deciphered "I think that if these dispatches were traced home to me I should deem it a disgrace from which I never could recover." It may be added that they have been traced very near to the door of Mr. Marble, formerly editor of the World, and a close personal friend of Mr. Tilden's.

New Hampshire has begun to commit vagrants under her new tramp law. The first one convicted was sentenced to the state's prison for fourteen months. After shirking labor for years he now has a good steady job, and is entitled to it.

DEATH FROM STRANGULATION.—A correspondent writing from Marion station under date of 25th, says "I have a very strange case and circumstance to note which is as follows A daughter of E. FIRE ALARM.—Yesterday morning the city was given a series of confused taps which occasioned considerable commotion The trouble was caused by the cutting of several wires connected with the fire alarm signals, which was necessary in taking down No 2 s old flag staff.

SEWER ABOUT COMPLETED.—The survey at the mouth of the Columbia river s progressing rapidly. Since the smoke has vanished the work can be prosecuted with greater expedition. It is expected that the survey will be completed about the 1st of October

MERCER HELD FOR MURDER.

DR. MON V. JU DGE ADAMS IN THE CASE OF STATE VS J. K. MER FR.—DEFENDANT NOT ADMITTED TO BAIL

Judge Adams, police judge of Portland rendered the following decision yesterday afternoon in the case of state of Oregon vs James K. Mercer charged with the murder of A C Macdonald last Thursday We publish the decision in full

The evidence having now been fully submitted and elucidated by the arguments of learned counsel it becomes the duty of the magistrate to ascertain from the evidence the true facts of the case as near as may be and determine in the language of the criminal code of our state whether or not a crime has been committed and if so which or there is sufficient cause to believe the defendant guilty thereof

The position occupied by the magistrate is very far from an envious one indeed and the duty now devolving upon him is by no means a pleasant one yet he is not free to shirk one iota of responsibility and whoever feels aggrieved by the decision the claims of public justice are paramount to all personal considerations and his own convictions under the evidence and the law must be the guide to a proper determination on of what public justice demands Owning then the weakness of all human judgment and saying no claim to infallibility in matters of fact I proceed to the decision of this charge not without a most sensitive regard to all its responsibilities

The prisoner is charged with the most serious crime known in the category of offenses against the law the life of a person in this state not bailable and the proof in the evidence he has submitted appeals to the law to discharge him from custody on the ground that no crime has been committed or at least admit him to bail so that he may go free while the matter is in abeyance and until it be judicially determined whether he be guilty or innocent And the law without doubt favors and admits to bail before trial where it can properly be allowed

This much we know the same duty of human life has been invaded and that taken away by a fellow being which it is not in his power to restore The deed has been committed beyond all power of recall the perpetrator is in the strong hand of the law and must answer whether the act be justified by showing a clear and well defined necessity to have existed for the immediate complete defense of his person else he must be held amenable to the rules which the body compact have justly enacted to protect its individual members from wanton death.

The facts are not so difficult to ascertain as might at first appear when we come to consider the conflicting testimony of witnesses above reproach of character for truth and veracity and of equal probity and reliability and I may say it has seldom if ever become my duty to investigate a matter in which the character of the witnesses examined has possessed the same degree of excellence and reliability where he number and consequent diversity of character has been so great I feel frank to say, that while there has been some contradiction in the testimony each witness has detailed his statement in a candid manner and with the manifest intention of telling the truth only

To reconcile the testimony and arrive at a correct knowledge of the whole affair as it actually occurred it becomes necessary to consider carefully the means each witness had of seeing what transpired his relative position at the scene of action and lastly his character and conduct during the affray To conclude this to be the true statement in brief of what transpired

On Tuesday the 17th inst. A C Macdonald the deceased stated to J J Burnett that unless defendant retracted certain statements contained in an article which, it was claimed, reflected upon deceased and his family within two days the deceased would fix him or words of that import and that this language was communicated to defendant. That on the day following or the day after that deceased sought to arm himself with a deadly weapon That upon the 17th deceased authorized the publication of an article referring directly to the language used by him to Burnett and that two days after the publication he sought the interview with defendant in question in which he (deceased) made use of very abusive and indecent language during the time of which interview the defendant who was standing with his hand in his coat pocket where was concealed a self cocking pistol a deadly weapon replied in such language as was not in the least calculated to provoke an assault That retraction was demanded by deceased of defendant, which he declined to make, deceased gesturing with one hand and having the other in the armhole of his vest That defendant changed his position moving partly backward from deceased when deceased either struck him or caught him by the collar with one hand and immediately closed with him in an embrace which pinioned defendant's arms to his sides In the ensuing scuffle they fell, defendant underneath deceased's head reaching only to the center of defendant's body from the waist up. That deceased made an ineffectual attempt to catch or grasp either defendant's hair or throat doubtless, by which he might draw himself more effectually upon defendant's body That while thus engaged defendant by an adroit movement to deceased's left side partially extricated himself from his position and drawing his pistol from his right coat pocket raised his right hand with his pistol over deceased's back and with the pistol pointed at his head made an unsuccessful attempt to fire Before deceased arose defendant by placing his hand on the back of deceased's neck raised himself up so that he was partially disengaged from his adversary and fired two shots in rapid succession the parties changing positions between shots however deceased no having yet fully regained his feet The first of these shots took effect next to the upper coat pocket of deceased on the left side. The bullet ranging backward passed through a newspaper in the coat pocket and ploughed its way through the outer flesh only lodging in the clothing near the back The ball from the second shot evidently passed through deceased's vest in front of and just below the left pocket passing through the waistband of the pants and entering the abdomen lodged next the skin on the opposite side. This is the shot that produced the death That subsequently two more shots were fired by defendant, deceased making an effort to draw his pistol from his right pants pocket, and in doing so received from defendant who followed and struck deceased two or three times over the head with his clenched pistol felling him to his knees Whereupon defendant ran into the middle of the street and fell (unconscious by per tapsi) deceased firing at the same time the ball passing above the defendant and out into the pavement. That three other shots were immediately fired by deceased at the fleeing defendant none of which took effect upon him.

That directly after and immediately succeeding the arrest of defendant defendant stated that he had fired him and he hoped he had killed him This I deem the material testimony to consider in determining this examination

It would be a conclusion equally vicious and destructive of good order in any community were it promulgated as the law that in an affray of this character in which two parties met and exchanged shots in the streets, or anywhere else for that matter each intending at the time to take the life of the other there was no crime committed. One of the unfortunate actors in the scene has already answered to the full extent he could not for a moment admit of a conclusion implying his innocence Notwithstanding I am of the opinion that a killing by one of his adversary in an encounter in which self defense was not a justification immediately succeeding combat on the part of the slayer indicating that he was prepared to take the life of his adversary in the event of such encounter and followed by words implying that the destruction of his adversary was a matter of gratification rather than a subject of regret, would, imply such not exist except where from the evidence or confession I am of the same opinion as counsel for the state the defendant in this case is either guilty of murder or was entitled to make complete defense and should go free It is therefore ordered that the defendant J K Mercer be held to answer at the October term of the circuit court for the county of Multnomah state of Oregon without bail and that he be committed to the jail of said county

MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR

The following message was read from the mayor A vote was taken resulting in the sustainment of the veto

MAYOR OFFICE Sept 24 1878

To the Honorable the Council of the City of Portland—GENTLEMEN I herewith return without my approval an ordinance entitled An ordinance to provide for the prevention and removal of obstructions in the Willamette river within the city limits The principal objection to the ordinance as passed is that it prohibits the anchoring of vessels in the Willamette river at any point between the Ground Block and the south line of Salmon street between the pierhead of the charter in describing the boundaries of the city describes the center of the Willamette river as being the eastern boundary of the city hence the city of Portland has no jurisdiction over that portion of the river lying east of the center line and could only prohibit the anchoring of vessels in that part of the river lying west of the center line This is an important subject, and a new ordinance might be so drawn as to obviate the above objection

W S NEWBURY, Mayor

WASHINGTON COUNTY FAIR

Third Day

The attendance to day has been all that could be asked Receipts showing sales that improve on those of the first two days The principal part of the day's amusement quite a drill and appearance like the fair of years heretofore conspicuous by their absence have lent their charms to grace the day while sterner men has flocked in crowds to every point that seemed to promise any excitement.

After all I must admit the real business of an agricultural society is far from being fulfilled on this occasion

The exhibits in every line though always of merit fall far short of sampling the resources of Washington county This is no fault of the management of the society but of the people whom it almost invites to benefit A raiser of fine fruit or vegetables has good success with his fruit but a remarkable yield of grain but do a dozen more of each of their neighbors and so A B and C come to the fair with plenty of room in the wagon and say Instant I have a prize to get awarded to articles that they could beat if they had it But there's the rub They didn't try and so filled their neighbors. The result is that now for instance four cabbages two beets a half dozen carrots and such things in similar proportions are the exhibit of Washington county with its thousands of acres of heaver land than which is unsurpassed in the world This too when within two miles of it not only grounds are to be seen excellent samples in abundance of every variety of vegetables

Though scores of farmers pay the entrance fee their improved pure try will not take premium their fine blooded birds their neighbors half a dozen inferior will the entire section that depriment While horses breeders keep out and improved new strains of various breeds and hotly dispute about their relative value and fitness for the land Why come are they exhibited at the fair Mr Long is also allowed to walk it with five premiums on five Ayrshire cattle without a competitor and so on through the list except however the ladies departments Here the dear creatures enter into the true spirit of an exhibition and by all sorts of fingerfemale with needles and other small implements making up all sorts of impossible combinations to ornament their homes and bring them out read to the interest of each annual fair

If farmers gardeners stockmen everybody who has any remarkable production to sell will bring it out as an exhibition not as a speculation the art and science of husbandry will be greatly advanced by each meeting and strangers and visitors be astonished and delighted at the true specimens of our capabilities

On the contrary I had to buy the crowds wandering listlessly about the ground half an hour unless the entire exhibition and the sole business seem to be to visit the shows patronize the booths and eat

THE RACES

This branch of agriculture was represented by a race mile heats, three in five for a purse of $500 Geo Ross named g g Dan N Wyll named b h Wynooski Mat White named b m Alice Lorrell and J T Mendenhall named g g Sam Tilden Poor selling was brisk Olo bringing about 5 to 2 on each of the others Portland backed Olo Washington county stood by Wynooski throughout the afternoon For the

FIRST HEAT

The horses were sent away in good order excepting the fake start by Dan who like his namesake seemed to be making up his mind and only started after being forcibly removed by his trainer that the race had begun Alice off in a good natured sort of gallop and allowed the team around very comfortably Olo and Alice contended clever for the heat, the mare winning by a neck in 2 38, Wynooski a good third and the field barely inside the distance flag

The bay mare we suffering from a severe colic and no one expected to see her start again although she had taken the heat However she was saddled up the others all coming to the scratch fresh as daisies and away they went for

THE SECOND HEAT

Just as before the presidential horse fell in front and on the back stretch broke he at his feet and fell out of the race Wynooski and Olo ran in a lump the mare closely trailing them On the last turn the mare had closed her gap and made a spunky brush for the heat, but was too sick to stay with the pace and this was substantially her last effort for the race Olo ran round the others at the turn and took the heat by a length in 2 01 Wynooski 2d Alice 3d Tilden distanced

Not withstanding her misery the bay mare came up again pluckily and went off for

THE THIRD HEAT

With a rush to take the track from the getaway Wynooski stood at the judges stand until the other two had reached the grand stand 200 yards away when he went off like the wind to save his distance The others perhaps a little confused held up a little and he was in the crowd on the back stretch but failed to take the heat, the gray gelding winning by half a length in 2 42

THE FOURTH HEAT

Was run neatly by the two contestants he mare still a their heels, the gray winning by a neck in 2 18 Olo second Alice third

THE FIFTH HEAT

Went off just the same except that at the home stretch there was a pretty bit of running Olo winning by a foot in 2 02, Wynooski second Alice third

THE SIXTH AND LAST

Just before calling up to mount the mare was withdrawn as she should have been two hours before, and the two horses old antagonists of many a race, went off together Both were tired but the grey either had the worst of it or was badly pulled using 200 yards in the first half and barely saving second money by a cruel effort Olo winning the heat and race in 2 09.

This had been a long and tough race and by the time it closed the trains were whistling and a grand rush took place for Portland and Yamhill

In the mean time a couple of blonde ladies proposed a walking match for $5 once round the track Much amusement was afforded by their frantic gestures as they went around the ground trotting occasionally and the little man raising hands in an imploring way to the judges he'd smile away As I came they are coming home they trotter ahead out of course the square walker will get the race

However the other fellow ought to have a purse as his was the only trotting on the grounds this week

No whisky being sold, perfect order maintained no accidents no lockdowns and in short it is perhaps lucky for you that there is no more to write about

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN,

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Private Diseases.

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS

public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness, for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself. Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhœa, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success, not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of, and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints, and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians—he can tell the patients' diseases the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally, and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions, must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, procuring medical treatment of the proper kind, who desire to consult with me, will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so-called Doctors, through pretended friendship for the patients. Look out for them: they are knaves, prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M. BRENAN, the Medical Lecturer, and read his sign on his door.

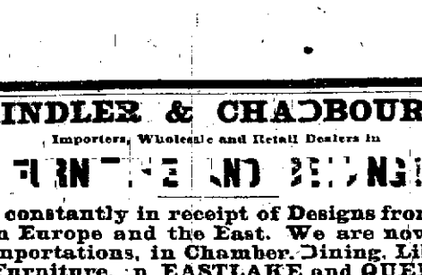
PERCHERON STOCK FOR SALE.



I WILL SELL THE FOLLOWING VALUABLE Breeding Animals:

PRIDE OF PERCHE or GEN. FLEURY, DOLL, WHITE ROSE, TEMPEST, these are all full blooded, JENNIE, fifteen sixteenth blood. Doll has been bred to "Arabian Boy," the other bred to Gen. Fleury. All appear to be in foal, and have proven No. 1 brood mares.

JOSIE, a yearling filly by Gen. Fleury, dam Jennie. This filly will be enrolled in the forthcoming Percheron-Norman stud Book, having fine crosses from Percheron sires.

ELLA, a ½ yearling filly, by Gen Fleury, dam Maggie.

The above seven horses are the most valuable breeding animals of this Stock ever offered for sale on this coast, and will be a valuable acquisition to any section they may be located in.

I would prefer to sell the lot together.

I will have part of the above number at the coming State Fair.

Also, "ARABIAN BOY," some Yearling Colts and Fillies, with the Shetland Ponies, and Sucking Shetland filly "Minnie."

It is 27 years since the Percheron stock was introduced in Ohio. The Secretary of the Ohio Board of Agriculture J. H. Klippart, Esq., publishes in his recent annual report, replies received from the various counties in the State, to the following questions: Have the Percheron horses been in reduced in your county? Do they give general satisfaction? To the first, 68 counties answer Yes. To the second 69 answer Yes, and 9 answered No. And from the same report the average price of good geldings and mares for farm use were higher in Union county, where they were first imported, than any other county in the State. This certainly speaks well for the Percherons. Every horseman knows that a large well formed horse will always bring a good price in any market.
